The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Malin (US 6167597, figure 1) is the closest art of record and teaches a reclosable fastener for bags, comprising a first element 12 and a second element 14 formed to provide a configuration which provides resistance to compression forces exerted on the first and second elements. The difference is that Malin lacks in combination the limitation "wherein, in the engaged condition, ... in respective opposite direction perpendicular thereto" (lines 16-35). This limitation requires that the contact between post and heel only takes place at the pairs of complementarily angled contact surfaces and that the pairs of contact surfaces make contact in their entirety on opposite sides of the median plane of separation so that the first and second pairs of contact surfaces lie entirely to respective opposite sides of the median plane of separation in the engaged condition. This limitation provides a very different design and function from that of Malin and there is no teaching in the art of record to modify Malin to have such structure.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
